NO ACTION TAKEN ON M'NAB RESIGNATION.

Acceptance Being Held Back Pending Further Inquiry.

McReynolds Says Wilson Will Issue Statement in Due Course.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—United States Attorney McNab's resignation, wired Saturday to President Wilson with startling charges that Attorney General McReynolds had ordered delays in certain criminal prosecutions in San Francisco, which threatened to defeat justice, still lies unacted upon before President Wilson today. The situation, which already has called forth various explanations, was taken up at the cabinet meeting. Attorney General McReynolds, however, declined to talk at all about it. The impression prevailed that acceptance of the resignation was being held back pending some further investigation, at the conclusion of which it either would be accepted or declined.

Yesterday President Wilson called on Mr. McReynolds for a full report on the incident.

The delayed prosecutions are those of Drew C. Caminetti, son of Anthony Caminetti, the new commissioner general of immigration, indicted under the white slave law, and officials of the Western Fuel Company, indicted for conspiracy to defraud the customs.

When the cabinet meeting broke up the only announcement on the McNab case came from Attorney General McReynolds. "The President will issue a statement on the subject in due course," was his only comment.

The House judiciary committee at a hearing Thursday will investigate the delay ordered by Attorney General McReynolds in federal prosecutions at San Francisco.

MANY NOVEL FEATURES.

Committees Hard at Work Preparing for the Flower Show.

The committee of the Garden Association and the Newport Horticultural Society is hard at work today, with many assistants, preparing the exhibits for the open-air flower show for the opening, at the residence of Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, Wednesday afternoon. The enterprise is much larger than any other show arranged by the Horticultural Society, although retaining many of the most successful features, and as it is the first given under the auspices of the Garden Association every effort is being made to make it the most successful how ever held in Newport, the natural attractiveness of "Harbour Court" assisting in making it such.

The Seventh Artillery band will give concerts each afternoon and tea will be served on small tables on the lawn, Mrs. Frenve Vanderbilt, Mrs. J. Stewart Barney, Mrs. E. Rollins Morse, Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman, Mrs. Elisha Dyer, Mrs. E. Rollins Morse, jr., Stuart Duncan, Miss Edgar and Miss Wetmore serving.

The committee has invited the children of the Children's Home to visit the show Thursday and will entertain them. A number of novel features promise to make the show specially attractive, not only to those who love flowers but to others who may know them less familiarly but are always glad to see them.

ATHLETIC EVENTS FOR ENLISTED MEN.

A long-distance road race, open to the enlisted men of the army and navy, will be run Wednesday afternoon under the charge of Physical Director Conahay of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. Medals will be given for the first four places. The race will be for five miles, starting at the corner of Touro and Spring streets and covering Spring street, Coggeshall avenue to Bailey's beach, Bellevue avenue and Touro street, finishing at Clarke street. Entries have been received from Fort Adams, the Training Station, Torpedo Station and battleships Louisiana and New Jersey, and others are expected.

An athletic meet exclusively for enlisted men of the army and navy will be a part of the city celebration of Fourth of July, taking place at Morton Park after the meet for civilians.

ON THE COLONIAL'S BILL.

The case in which the xylophone used by the Gardens is carried suggests that it must be considerable of an instrument, but one can thus gain small inkling of the music which the instrument is made to produce on the stage at the Colonial. George and Lillie, who are the manipulators, are wonders at the work. The Casting Campbells too are of the unusual order and their act is full of sensations all the while they are on the stage. Willie and Josie Barrows as the bellboy and the maid simply compel the audience to be good-natured.

FLEET NOTES.

Battleship Georgia is coaling today from fuel ship Cyclops.

The North Carolina has returned from New York. She left the fleet when it came in Friday and went there for a brief stay.

The Florida will leave the fleet at the end of the week for the New York yard, to undergo her three months' overhauling period.

Naval tug Patapsco was in at Long wharf today, for supplies for the fleet.

This afternoon there was a race for sailing cutters from the fleet. With a fair southerly breeze the crews of the several ships secured much enjoyment from the events, and incidentally lost and won some money.

Advance in Hard Refined Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 24.—All grades of hard refined sugars were advanced 10 cents and all soft grades 15 cents per 100 pounds today.

AMERICANS EASILY OUT-CLASS OPPONENTS.

Sterling Form Causes Nervousness Among Englishmen.

McLoughlin, Williams, Johnson and Biddle All Win.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 24.—At the resumption of play in the English lawn tennis championships here today Craig Biddle of Philadelphia added several marks to his reputation by scoring a three sets straight victory over G. H. Mayes, a member of the Canadian team, which meets Belgium in the next round of the Dwight F. Davis trophy tournament. The score was 7-5, 6-4, 6-3. The American player did especially good work in his service and his overhead smashes.

McLoughlin lost no time in adding another victory to the American list by defeating Cloudinning in three straight sets. Score, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3. This match attracted an immense gallery, but the game itself was disappointingly one-sided, the American completely out-classing his opponent.

R. Norris Williams of the United States Davis trophy team disposed of R. M. K. Turnbull in easy style in three straight sets, the score being 6-1, 6-4, 6-3. In this, his first match game at Wimbledon, the American player showed great confidence. He scarcely missed a chance. His back-hand drives were a feature of great strength, while his lightning service nonplussed his opponent.

Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia scored an easy victory over H. B. Webb of Cambridge University in three straight sets, the score being 6-2, 6-1, 7-5. The sterling form shown by McLoughlin, Johnson, Williams and Biddle has caused an attack of nervousness among the home talent.

The captain of the Canadian Davis trophy team, R. B. Powell, beat J. B. Ward of England by 3 sets to 1. The score: 1-6, 9-7, 8-6, 6-1.

W. E. Crawley of England beat the crack player of the German Davis trophy team, F. W. Rahe, by 3 sets to 1. The score was 10-8, 0-6, 6-4, 9-7.

A DECIDED HIT.

"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" Pleasing in Comedy and Music.

The Malley-Denison company made a long jump from the dramatic "Madame X" to musical comedy, in presenting George M. Cohan's "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," but landed squarely on its feet, making a decided hit with a large audience. The comedy and music is Cohanesque, and pleasing. The situations are interesting, the music is "catchy," the comedy good and all were presented by the regular members of the company and those who had been called in to fill out the cast of characters. The audience was surprised that the regular members can sing as well as act.

Blanche Shirley as Mary was as usual capital, in a part which differs from that of Madame X as much as it is possible to imagine. Her singing of the song, "Mary," was one of the hits of the evening. James Crane as Kid Burns, in the vernacular and actions of the former prize fighter, also made a hit and his song, "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," was decidedly well done. Neil Barrett as Daniel Cronin, Jack Chandler as James Blake, Mr. Bushee as Andy Gray and Miss Stone as Mrs. Purdy, of the old company, were well cast. Houston Richards as Tom Barrett, the character played originally by George Cohan, was a welcome newcomer, while Miss Nelson as Mrs. Deane and Miss Allen as Flora Deane added to the general excellence of the cast. The chorus of boys and girls was well trained in the singing and dancing and stage movements.

WILL SUPPORT THE SHAFROTH AMENDMENT.

Agreement Reached by Senate Anti-Free Sugar Democrats.

Would Substitute a Half-Cent Duty After the Year 1916.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Anti-free-sugar Democrats in the Senate caucus today agreed to support an amendment by Senator Shafroth, to eliminate the provision for free sugar in 1916, and substitute a duty of approximately one half-cent a pound after that time on refined sugar.

The Shafroth amendment accepts the duties proposed in the Underwood bill upon sugar for the next three years, including a rate on refined until 1916 of approximately one cent a pound. Louisiana Senators and those from beet-sugar states are making no fight to change these rates, but are urging their colleagues to abandon free sugar for a further 60 per cent reduction in 1916. If the amendment is voted down the anti-free-sugar Senators will have other alternatives to propose.

The caucus set sugar aside temporarily, however, to resume its consideration later, and approved the tobacco schedule without change and also all the Senate committee amendment to the agricultural schedule relative to livestock and grain.

Wheat and flour were left on the free list, with a countervailing duty; livestock and meats were left on the unrestricted free list; oats at six cents a bushel, oatmeal at 32 cents per 100 pounds and barley at 15 cents a bushel remained unchanged.

RESULT OF HUNGER STRIKE.

Clayton, Sentenced in Conjunction With Suffragettes, Released.

LONDON, June 24.—Edwyn Clayton, the analytical chemist who was sentenced to 21 months' imprisonment June 17, for conspiracy to commit malicious damage to property, in conjunction with the militant suffragette leaders, was released from jail today in a very weak condition, as the result of a hunger strike. It appears from statements made by released prisoners that other convicts who are not suffragists have followed the example of the suffragettes. Three men at the present time decline to eat food in prison and are being forcibly fed.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT WORK.

The sidewalk job on Meeting street has at length been finished and the granolithic men are at work on the walks on Spring street damaged by the Weaver fire. Both sides of Spring some on Sherman and some on Broadway need attention. New granite curb has been set on Spring street, south side, from Sherman to Bull, and on the north side from Stone to the Cornell estate. Some will be re-placed on Broadway.

The steam roller from the Bath road work is again on Red Cross avenue. Men are re-setting curb on Mt. Vernon street.

A complaint was received this noon by the highway department against the granolithic sidewalk on Old Beach road, which had risen up. It was not stated, but it was supposed to be due to the bulging of the granolithic from the heat. Whatever it was the inhabitants of that section objected to it.

LECTURE ON THE NARRAGANSETT ASSEMBLY.

At the Second Baptist Church Monday evening President Green gave a stereopticon lecture on the Narragansett Assembly, which is located at East Greenwich and has been planned largely on the basis of the assembly at Northfield. The lecture gave in illustrated form information regarding the religious activities, camp life, opportunities for athletic exercises and other phases of the assembly. The stereopticon was operated by Mr. W. Gardner Stockwell of the Young Men's Christian Association.

TO BE REVIEWED BY ADMIRAL BADGER.

At the weekly drill at the Naval Training Station Wednesday afternoon Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, U. S. N., commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, will review the brigade of 1,000 apprentice seamen. The street riot drill, perfected by Lieutenant J. R. Morrison, the brigade commander, will be made a feature of the review. Other admirals of the fleet will in turn review the apprentice seamen at the weekly drills.

AT THE SHILOH BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY.

There was a good congregation at the Shiloh Baptist Church Monday, in attendance on the anniversary service. The choir of the First Baptist Church sang several numbers and Mr. James O. Banks gave a solo. The sermon was preached by Rev. Arthur Crane of the First Baptist Church, his text being "The house filled with perfume."

This evening Rev. Joseph Cooper of the First Methodist Episcopal Church will preach and Mrs. Florence Carley-Hurley and Mr. Edward Lodter will give an organ and violin duet.

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL SIGNED.

President Says Labor Union Exemption is Unjustifiable.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Wilson today signed the sundry civil appropriation bill, with a statement declaring that he would have vetoed, if he could, the provision in it exempting labor unions and farmers' organizations from prosecution under a certain $300,000 fund designated for the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The President characterized the exemption as "unjustifiable in character and principle," but called attention to the fact that the Department of Justice possesses other funds with which to enforce the anti-trust law. The urgent needs of the various government departments for funds appropriated by the bill influenced the President to speedy action on the measure.

The bill carries $116,000,000 in appropriations and was vetoed by Mr. Taft March 4 because of the labor exemption clause.

WAR COLLEGE POSSIBILITIES.

ing up orders. The result of the course in writing orders is to teach officers how to grant to their subordinates a proper area of discretion in carrying out their orders and what limits the signer of the order should reserve to himself. It teaches the superior not to meddle with the details and allows the subordinate to attend to such details as seem best as circumstances arise.

The object of the whole course is to provide for good team work in the higher commands and to promote harmony of thought and action among those holding commands. The general result of the course is developing and training in military character, loyalty, initiative and decision.

The general method of instruction followed for the last four years at the college is the same as used in the colleges of the great powers of Europe, and is one which has been proved successful by experience in the Franco-German, Chino-Japanese, Russo-Japanese and Balkan wars.

Some such method is now more necessary than before, because in the normal state of our army and navy a nation must be prepared to strike when war begins with its whole force, and military men must be prepared and trained, although they have perhaps had no real war experience.

The new arrangement provides for an abbreviated course of two weeks, which will have as principal subjects "Manoeuvres," "Chart Solution," "Tactics" and "Strategy." The 60 officers from the fleet comprise lieutenant commanders, lieutenants and ensigns. Secretary Daniels is convinced that not enough emphasis has been placed on the importance of the studies at the War College, and intends that a proper opportunity shall be had in the future.

Commander G. H. Schofield lectured Monday on "Tactics and Strategy," and today will lecture on "Formation of Military Character." Professor George Grafton Wilson of Harvard University is giving a series of lectures on international law before the regular conference at the college.

FOREIGN CRUISE ADVANCED.

Proposed Mobilization and Review at New York in October to be Abandoned.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels, upon the recommendation of Rear Admiral Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, has ordered the abandonment of the mobilization and review at New York, proposed for the early part of October, and has directed that the foreign cruise to Mediterranean ports arranged for next January be advanced to take the place of the mobilization and review.

The cruise will begin in October, and the battleships probably return to their home yards for the Christmas holidays, after which the fleet will go to Guantanamo, Cuba, for the customary winter exercises and drills. Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, aide for operations, is engaged in working out an itinerary for the cruise.

The program for the movements of the fleet approved by former Secretary Meyer, soon before the close of the last administration, provided for the fleet review, which for the past two years has been held at New York. There was considerable opposition to the mobilization and review, on the ground that it was more useful as a display than for the practical training of the officers and men of the fleet.

Soon after Mr. Daniels became head of the Navy Department he directed that a foreign cruise be held next January, after the expiration of the Meyer program for the movements of the fleet. Upon the recommendation of Rear Admiral Badger, however, he has now decided that it would be more beneficial to the officers and men of the fleet to substitute a foreign cruise for the fleet mobilization.

PERSONALS.

—Frank Blake, clerk in a railway office at Cairo, Ill., won a bet of $25 by eating 81 eggs. The world's record is supposed to have been 60. The eggs were cooked as follows: Scrambled 15, soft boiled 16, hard boiled 15, fried 15.

—Judge Henry Jones, 94 years old, the last surviving member of the Confederate Congress, is dead. As a member of the Alabama legislature, prior to the war, he voted against secession and refused to sign the ordinance after it had overwhelmingly passed.

—Meredith Nicholson, the Indiana novelist, has asked President Wilson to withdraw his nomination as minister to Portugal, if the appointment won't embarrass him politically. Objection had been raised that Nicholson had not always been a Democrat.

—Owing to the precarious health of the Pope after his recent illness, it is understood, negotiations are now going on between the Holy See and Prince Torlonia for the purchase of a fine wood owned by the prince, which lies close to the Vatican gardens. This wood can be reached either by means of an underground passage or an archway and would enable the Pope to enjoy a much larger area for his walks. This section allows a magnificent view of the Roman Campagna toward the Mediterranean.

Fruit Soup

Put four pints of cold water into a saucepan, add half a cupful washed prunes, half a cupful sliced apples, half a cupful seeded raisins, half a cupful currants and a small piece of cinnamon stick. Boil gently until the fruit is tender, replacing the water as it boils away. Rub through a sieve. Add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, sweeten to taste and thicken it with two tablespoonfuls of sago or oatmeal.

Custard and Jam Pudding

Scald one and one-half cupfuls of milk, add three eggs and one-quarter cupful of sugar beaten together and cook in a double boiler until it thickens. Take from the fire and add one-half box of gelatine, which has been soaked in one-half cupful of cold water; when dissolved strain and flavor with one teaspoonful vanilla. When cool pour a half-inch layer of the custard into a mold and set aside until firm; tilt the mold on one side and add a little more custard, repeating until the sides are well coated. If set on ice the process will be greatly facilitated. Fill the centre of the mold with alternate layers of jam—any kind preferred—and stale sponge cakes soaked in wine or orange juice. Over all pour the remainder of the custard and set the mold away in a cold place until the custard is firm.

IF YOU KNEW.

[Ethel Hallett Porter, in Lippincott's.]

If you knew that the wood way missed your feet,
And the birds call through the rain,
With a wistful note in the cadence sweet—
Would they call you back again?

If you knew that the pine trees shelter still
This same little pool and glen,
That nothing is gone an dnothing changed,
Would you seek this pathway, then?

If you knew that my heart, like a tight closed bud,
Had a secret folded there,
Awaiting the warmth of a word, a touch—
Would you care, dear heart, would you care?

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.
The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

THE PRESIDENT'S DILEMMA.

It is a pity that the constitution does not give the President of the United States the privilege which every Congressman or Senator has, of granting or withholding his approval to any section of a bill. President Wilson was in the dilemma of approving the sundry civil measure, with its obnoxious clause forbidding use of any part of the appropriation for the prosecution of labor unions or farmers' associations for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, or of causing great embarrassment to the country by vetoing the entire bill. The case is not a rare one, as riders are frequently put into measures before Congress, securing legislation which could not be passed upon its own merits.

The President's protest against the exemption clause shows the embarrassment under which he labored. It does not follow, however, that the classes privileged in the bill cannot be proceeded against for violation of the law, the expense to be met from other sources.

VICTIMS OF INJUSTICE.

Within recent years there have been two cases in England of persons falsely imprisoned. One of these was due to the gross negligence of the police in collecting evidence and the small opportunity which an accused has in an English court as compared with ours to tell his story. Until a late date the accused could not be put on the witness stand. Theoretically this was designed to save him from the temptation to commit perjury. Practically it kept from the court the knowledge of many things which a barrister, who knew no more about the case than the solicitor told him, found out, or even thought to seek, from other witnesses. When it developed after several years' imprisonment that the men were innocent they were not only released but a substantial money grant was made each by the government.

Two or three years ago the confession of a dying man showed that for 20 years a man had been in the western penitentiary of Pennsylvania under a life sentence for murder, when he was innocent; the dying man confessed that he had testified falsely out of revenge. An investigation corroborated the story and the man was pardoned, but there was no fund out of which any indemnity could be paid him. There was some talk of an appropriation by the legislature, but American sympathies with the victims of injustice do not seem to be acute. Andrew Carnegie, in one of whose mills the man had worked, gave him money and he went back to Hungary and his wife, apparently too happy to be free and have his future provided for to feel any bitterness for the 20 years he had been locked up in prison.

Society ought to make regular provision for the victims of the miscarriage of justice, who, let us hope, are very few in number. Wisconsin has created a commission to investigate cases of this sort, which may pay the victim not more than $1,500 a year or $5,000 in all, or if necessary apply to the legislature for more. Every state ought to provide something of this sort and the indemnity might be more liberal.

NATIONAL BANKS AND THE GLASS BILL.

The national banks which are talking about surrendering their charters and re-organizing as state institutions if the Glass bill shall become a law will be legislated out of existence, any way, during the next 20 years, and the bill, if enacted, would at once bar them from any increase of their circulation. If they should become state banks it would not result in curtailing the circulation, because whatever the amount they might give up in retiring from the national system would be added to the $500,000,000 of federal reserve circulation to be issued under the proposed law. Thus the effect upon the volume of the currency would be negligible. There would be no more organization of national banks after the enactment of this law, and it would be expected that from one cause and another the greater part of such institutions would go out of business within a few years. In fact, as the bank charters run for 20 years, nearly the whole number would expire before the period named in the bill should be reached.

The federal regulation of the banking system is limited almost or quite entirely to the issue of circulation, and most governments exert a good deal of control at this point. Ours has exercised none, except in determining the conditions of security, and for a time the total volume. As the comptroller of the currency is now looking pretty sharply after the way men manage their banks it is doubtful if there would be more governmental regulation, outside of the note issue, than there is now.

So far as the right of note issue goes, the banks would fare the same under the plan of the monetary commission, which was mainly the work of ex-Senator Aldrich. Under that the present currency system would have been terminated much more expeditiously than under the Glass bill. The national bank system, created in 1862 to oblige institutions to lend their capital to the government, if they cared to issue circulating notes, would be wiped out sooner or later under the one plan or the other.

THE MISTRESS AND THE MAID.

So much is written and said about the inefficient servant in the house in these days that sometimes one hardly realizes that there are two sides to the subject and the inefficient mistress is often to blame for conditions generally attributed to the maid. There are many servants, working for competent mistresses who are totally incapable of doing the things for which they were hired and in which they professed to be proficient, who do not know even the first rudiments of good domestic service and are quickly detected and usually dismissed at once. There are also many who are capable and willing to do their best, but do not meet encouragement from the mistress of the house, because she is herself too inefficient to know how the work should be done and is content as long as it is performed in any manner. These people generally look upon a maid as a sort of machine, who will do the tasks given her without assistance from them, and have no further interest in her or her surroundings.

The employer should look upon her servants as useful and valuable additions to the family when they are capable, and at the same time recognize that they are human and have likes and dislikes just as she herself has, and the fact that they are serving in her family does not lessen their capacity for feeling. If she can prove to the maid her knowledge of how the work should be done, and that she expects it to be accomplished in a capable manner, much of the present servant problem would be solved. When a girl or woman full realizes that the mistress of the home understands thoroughly every part of the domestic machinery and will have only good and efficient service in helping to run it, and no others need apply, then will there be better servants. There will also be better conducted homes than many of those which are now run in slip-shod fashion, because they are left almost entirely to the management of inefficient maids, for the reason that the mistress is practically as inefficient as the maid she employs to help her.

The woman who realizes the value of conscientious service in her maids and gives the best of which she is capable in her sphere is the one who will appreciate the worth of good service and what it means to her, and will extend to her employes the spirit of good fellowship which insures perfect sympathy and understanding between mistress and maid. Until there is a complete recognition on the part of the mistress of the value of service and the important position it holds in everyday life, and on the other side respect for the knowledge displayed in the management of the home and gratitude for the kindnesses and consideration shown the maids by the home-maker, there will be lacking the spirit which will simplify the intricate tangle which the servant proposition has assumed at the present time. One of the secrets of being able to secure and retain efficient help lies in being able when need arises to show that the mistress is perfectly efficient to conduct the management of her household and show her maids how the work should and must be done for them to prove satisfactory in their part of the domestic machinery.

The knowledge which every woman should have who attempts to run a home, care and consideration for the help she employs, and a feeling that they are human as well as herself, will go a long way toward making the maids happier, more contented and more willing to do the things assigned them, besides taking an interest in the home in which they live. These things will also make the home a better and a happier place in which to live, because the wheels of the domestic machinery will run more smoothly for the mistress who by her efficiency is able to bring about this condition.

The reception and dinner for Mr. Wetmore will give the people of Newport an opportunity to show how much they appreciate the work he has done for the city and its inhabitants during his long term of public service. Newport as a naval centre owes much to Senator Wetmore's work and many individuals, as well as the community, have been benefited by his endeavors. Thursday evening's affair should be a spontaneous expression of the city's appreciation of a loyal citizen.

A steamship from Mediterranean ports arrived at New York Monday with 1371 steerage passengers, including 170 children less than 16 years old, the largest number who have come to the United States in one ship in many years. This is said to be the beginning of a great influx expected during the year. The immigrants are largely Austro-Hungarians, thrifty peasants who have come here, where land is better and cheaper and they are not under the domination of titled owners. They will take up farming in the western part of the United States and should prove desirable accessions.

President Wilson in signing the sundry civil bill, with the provision exempting labor organizations and farmers' co-operative associations from investigations or prosecution under the appropriation for the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law, evidently feels that his act requires some explanation, for he makes a statement to justify his position. Possibly in his academic studies he has read the phrase, "Qui s'excuse, s'accuse."

The chief of the bureau of chemistry issues a number of hot weather "Don'ts," the most interesting of which is "Don't look at the thermometer and keep thinking how hot it is." The others refer to excessive eating, wearing too many clothes and drinking ice-cold beverages, but above all things, he says: "Keep your eyes from the thermometer."

Secretary Daniels unqualifiedly favors the Naval War College, but is not yet persuaded that a great naval base should be established in Narragansett bay; at least, not if it means the abandonment of the Boston and New York yards. Perhaps when he comes here again in August he may be convinced.

VETERANS OF EVERY STAR.

Pennsylvania to Entertain Many on the Battlefield of Gettysburg.

Not fewer than 40,000 veterans of the Civil war, of the North and the South, will take part in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, which will be held July 1, 2, 3 and 4. All these veterans will be cared for in a big camp on that part of the battlefield southwest of the town where 7,000 tents and more are now being pitched under the supervision of the War Department.

Every star of the 48 in the American flag is expected to have its own quota of veterans. They will come as the guests of the national government and of their respective states and territories, which jointly will spend more than $1,000,000 for their entertainment and comfort. To receive them the government and the state of Pennsylvania have made elaborate plans. One detail alone provides for furnishing the veterans more than 300,000 meals.

Pennsylvania has been planning for the celebration of the battle for more than four years. She has appropriated $415,000 as her share of the expense. Congress has appropriated $150,000 to defray the expense of the government's participation and named a commission to help carry out the plans. Every state and territory also accepted the general invitation to participate, and nearly all of them appropriated money to transport veterans and commissions.

PORTSMOUTH.

Inmates of Colored Shelter Entertained; Miss Ruth Coggeshall Married.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The inmates of the Colored Shelter in Providence were entertained Monday by Miss Sarah J. Eddy at her home in Bristol Ferry. Forty of them, including guests, came by steamer, reaching the Bristol Ferry wharf about 11 o'clock, where automobiles met them. At the house their number was augmented by 20 from Portsmouth, so that luncheon was served to about 60 from tables decorated with sweet peas. The menu was clam chowder, rolls, peas, strawberries and cream, cake, ice cream and tea.

After all were fully satisfied the company adjourned from Miss Eddy's grounds to the Social Studio, where an elaborate program, two hours long, of instrumental music, songs, recitations and speeches, was given. Among the features were a song, "Fiddle and I," by Miss Alice Aylor, and a violin solo by Miss Ruth Bell. As roses were the decorations of the companies of last week, so sweet peas were Monday's flowers, but all three—old ladies, old men and the Colored Shelter—carried home as souvenirs, small glass rose bowls.

Two ministers came from Providence, Rev. Zachariah Harrison of the Pond Street Baptist Church and Rev. Mr. Arline of the Zion Methodist Church. Rev. James H. Dennis was also present.

At 4 o'clock automobiles took a happy company to the steamer for the return to Providence.

Miss Ruth L. Coggeshall, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander W. Coggeshall of Power street, and Mr. Clarence K. Lunan, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lunan of Fall River, were married Sunday afternoon at the parsonage of the Harrison Street Baptist Chapel in that city, by the pastor, Rev. Joseph Butterworth. The bride was attended by an elder sister, Mrs. Harrison S. Manchester, and the best man was Mr. Harrison Manchester, a brother-in-law. The bride was gowned in white muslin; wore a white hat with white plume and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her attendant also wore white muslin. Only the four named were present besides the clergyman. After the marriage the couple left for New York on an extended bridal trip. Upon their return they will reside at the home of Mr. Lunan's parents, 771 Jefferson street, Fall River.

CONNECTING TO TURNOUT.

New Track to Beach Will Soon Permit Running of Cars to Landing.

Today the new track to the beach is being connected to the Middleton Avenue turnout and as soon as this is done the cars will run through to the landing, though now they are stopping well up the hill. Monday, following the opening of the Stone Bridge, two large construction flats arrived, and these are bringing in from Island Park loads of gravel ballasting for the proper bedding of the tracks. Until this ballast was obtainable it was impossible to fill in the tracks where they had been laid, but this will soon be in progress. Monday there were more than 300 men employed on the work and every effort is being made to finish it as rapidly as possible. As soon as the new track can be used the work of shoving out the old, so that there will be passing distance for the cars, will be undertaken, but the new rails will then permit making the full run.

At Morton avenue the trench has been plowed and a few men and teams are removing the surplus material. On Carroll avenue there has been no digging, but the material for the construction has been distributed. As soon as the ash on Bath road is over the men will be transferred to this extension, and as the quarters are not so cramped they will make rapid progress in putting in the rails and preparing the line for operation.

THE CLEAN-UP CALL.

Inducement of a Free Carting Away May Fail to Appeal to Some.

The street commissioner is calling upon people to clean up. The collections will go on just as they have been, and there is no complaint that the collectors have neglected their duties. It seems, however, that some citizens have neglected theirs, and hence the call to clean up. Some material which the ashes men are not required to take has not been removed by the people on whose premises it is, and teams have been secured to collect this and save the people who have neglected to clean up the cost of doing it.

The notice to clean up will not strike some folks. It will strike others, but those who will take heed are those who have already cleaned up and do not need to hear the call. Even the offer of a free carting away of rubbish will not appeal to some.

—Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning a patient of the naval hospital who is temporarily deranged made his escape from the institution and a general alarm was sent to the police. The man was attired in white, without hat, and was known to have some money. He was traced on Second street and it was believed that he would try to leave town on the cars. This proved to be right, for the police patrol raced out Broadway and the man was taken off an out-going car.

—There will be an interesting wrestling match tonight at the Casino, Fall River, between Joe Gordon of the Naval Station and "Cyclone" Uyr, the "Maine Wildcat." The match will be a catch-as-catch can, best two in three falls, to a finish, and is attracting considerable attention, as both men have an excellent reputation. It is expected that a number from Newport will go up to see the exhibition. There will be a preliminary, between two boxers of Taunton and Kid Reed of New Bedford.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT CASES.

Two Brought by Father and Son to be Tried Together as One.

Columbia Company and Chauffeur Sued for Injuries Sustained by the Boy.

In the superior court this morning, Judge Stearns presiding, the case of the Miamis Motor Works vs. James Raptakis was taken up. Mr. Keohne pushing for trial and Mr. M. A. Sullivan pleading the absence of his client. The court decided to set the case for trial positively in October—the third trial.

William J. McGrath vs. Columbia Company was called for trial. It was agreed to try two cases at once. Plaintiff and his father are of Taunton, where October 5, 1912, it is claimed that the boy was run down by an automobile owned by defendant company and operated by Arthur W. Hubbard, defendant in the second case.

The following jurors were called: Theodore C. Taber, Little Compton; Marco A. Russo, Newport; J. Prescott Stedman, New Shoreham; George M. Lovett, Abram F. Hardy, Alexander Black, William H. Sullivan, Carl E. Lindh, Newport; John Charles Cook, Tiverton; Burton B. Dodge, New Shoreham; John S. Johnson, Newport; Zenon St. Laurent, Tiverton. Mr. Russo said he had read much of the case and was excused. Arthur J. Leary of Newport was called but failed to appear. John A. Sanford of Little Compton was called. Messrs. Stedman, Lovett and Sanford were challenged and Benjamin E. Hull and Arthur L. Hull of Jamestown and James F. Traught of Newport were called. Mr. Traught was challenged and Frederick B. Nason, son of Newport, was called.

Messrs. Corcoran of Pawtucket and O'Keefe of Taunton appeared for plaintiff and Mr. M. A. Sullivan for defendants. A raw of small boys and several young women were present, apparently interested in the case. After consulting inaudibly with counsel for some time, the court took a recess.

After the recess, the quiet conference was resumed and Frederick H. Nason was removed from the panel. This was very unusual, coming after both sides had expressed satisfaction with the jury. Dennis Whitley of Newport was called. He needed to be hunted up, but soon appeared, and the panel was then sworn to try the cases.

Mr. Corcoran read from one of the declarations, which charges that E. E. Rundall, alias John Doe, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Arthur W. Hubbard, alias John Doe, of Newport, and Thomas D. Soreiro, alias John Doe, of Newport, co-partners trading in said Newport as the Columbia Company, were guilty of negligence in driving the automobile in Taunton. Damages are laid at $15,000. It is claimed that the boy is seriously and permanently injured, having epileptic fits and being mentally unable to do school work, as before the accident. Plaintiff's lawyers came fortified with thick volumes of Acts and Resolves of Massachusetts.

E. M. Fitch, more than 20 years civil engineer in Taunton, was the first witness. He is assistant city engineer and knows Somerset avenue, near the Presbry Stove Lining works, to be a public highway (it is not disputed). He identified a plat of the street. A drinking fountain and hydrant were near. The plat was tacked up on the wall, back of the witness stand, and jurors gathered around. There are car tracks in the street. There is quite a bend in the road. A car could be seen at least 300 feet away. There is a brook 100 feet north of the fountain. Witness thought a long vision could be had, looking over the picket fence at the head of the road. Houses are near to each other there.

At 12:30 a recess to 2 o'clock was taken.

SOME "TOP-LINERS."

Much to Interest and Amuse in an Evening at Freebody Park.

Freebody Park opened its second week under the new management Monday, with a bill of six strong vaudevilte acts, of which three at least might be "top-liners," the others being also of high quality, although not so pretentious. The real top-liner is Louis Mann and his company in the playlet "Elevating a Husband," in which he well known comedian has a part which gives him plenty of opportunities to show his characteristic humor and at the same time a good deal of pathos. The situations are cleverly worked out and the supporting company, headed by Miss Wellman, is excellent. Mr. Bill as Henry, the butler, and Miss Anaume as the mother were also good. The playlet was enthusiastically received and at its close the entire company was called before the curtain several times.

Chick Sales's impersonations were especially good. He gives an entire country school entertainment, presenting the old maid schoolmarm, Percy Goode, Laura Gurl, Frank Huskey and May Spring, four of the pupils, in recitations; Professor Phillips, and Mr. Perkins, for whom the school is named. The impersonations were decidedly clever and the changes of costumes and make-up quickly made.

The Marahs Brothers present a novel juggling act, with a comedy element which is really amusing. The feats of skill and strength executed by one of the brothers are remarkable, the act concluding with the balancing of a billiard table on his head, the weight being evident from the size and the force required to hoist it into place on the man's head.

The three Bartons give a combination sketch of trick and fancy bicycle riding, singing and dancing. The Skatells show unusual skill on roller skates, executing dances which few attempt on their feet. Oscar Lorraine and Marian Stillman have a singing and violin act which is good, the playing of Lorraine showing him to be a master of the finer qualities of that delicate instrument.

Two good moving pictures are shown, one at the opening and the other after the vaudeville acts, and an evening spent at Freebody Park this week will be found to furnish much to interest and amuse.

ANOTHER RINK RACE.

A race for one mile will be the special attraction at the Rollo rink this evening, the contestants being Thomas O'Rourke of the rink staff, who holds the Connecticut championship, and Barnes of battleship Wyoming, who before he entered the navy had a wide reputation as a distance skater, holding the championship of Chicago and of the Western states. Both are fast men at short distances, and the race promises to be one of the most exciting ever held at the Newport rink. The Casting Campbells, who are appearing in vaudeville at the Colonial Theatre, will be the judges.

A WELL KNOWN MINIATURE PAINTER.

Mr. Adolphe de Bathe, a well known miniature painter from England, has arrived for the season and has taken the Derby studio on Bellevue avenue. He will give a private exhibition of his work later in the season. Among his best things is a handsome miniature of the late King Edward, which required 14 sittings. A replica of this will be included in the exhibit, the original being in possession of the king. Mr. de Bathe, who has many friends here, will devote a part of his time during the season to lectures on miniature painting to private classes.

ward spoke with him about the disappearance of an alleged will; ruled out, excepting noted, to the excluding of these matters.

Defendant rested.

Mr. Burdick re-called Mr. Wilkey, who said that Sarah refused to pay for the corn fertilizer at first; later she said she would pay for it.

Plaintiff rested.

There was 12 minutes to adjournment and the arguments went over until morning. It was understood that counsel would take about half an hour each and at 4:20 court adjourned to 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

This morning, Judge Stearns again presiding, the arguments in the Pierce case were made by Mr. Harvey for defendant and by Mr. Burdick for plaintiff. Keeper Romes led out the jury at 10:07, and at 12:12 they returned with a verdict for plaintiff for $490.

ADDS TO VICTORIES.

One Hundred and Seventeenth Company Scores 6 to 3 in Lively Game.

In the Post League at Fort Adams Monday the One Hundred and Seventeenth company added to its unbroken string of victories by defeating the One Hundred and Second in a lively game by a score of 6 to 3. Marcavich pitched a fine game, allowing no hits until the ninth inning, when safe drives by Strane and Brown assisted by three errors gave the losers their only runs. Cullen allowed only seven hits, including a two-bagger but these came when they were needed to count in the score. Brown made a home run and Jones, Andrews and Stewart each secured two hits. Marcavich had 10 strike-outs to his credit.

INVESTIGATORS WASTE TIME.

Committee on Lobby Inquiry Ignores Court Usage and Delays Results.

Lawyers Defy Precedent—Senator O'Gorman Opposes Arbitration Treaty With Great Britain.

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—After years and years of experience in watching investigation committees I can assert that the main trouble with such committees is the fact that they go out after irrelevant matter, pursue false trails and fail to stick to the subject under investigation. If the rule which is applied in every court of law should be invoked, and the investigators compelled to keep within the subject of inquiry, the long drawn out hearings, the volumes of printed testimony of no account whatever, and page upon page of matter, which means nothing, could be avoided and some tangible results reached.

I am moved to make this assertion after watching the committee investigating the lobby in Washington. It will take days and weeks to digest the vast amount of irrelevant testimony which has been submitted. The lawyers on the committee know that they are going far outside the domain which would be permitted in a court of law and yet they will defy all legal restraints in asking all kinds of questions of every witness.

As a consequence "dry hauls" are the result. From actual lobbyists, those who make a business of influencing legislation, the present committee has gone into the domain of newspaper influence, public opinion as exerted through the press and the periodicals. Of course it is known that newspapers print just what the editors decree shall be printed, "no matter whether the reading matter is furnished free or is paid for by the papers. And yet much time has been taken by this lobby committee to find out if the press uses undue influence.

If President Wilson and Secretary Bryan put through the arbitration treaty with Great Britain it will be necessary for the administration to exert influence upon the Senate and call off opposition which Senator O'Gorman has aroused to the new treaty. No doubt the contention of Senator O'Gorman is correct that the canal tolls will be subject to arbitration in case the treaty is ratified. In fact, Great Britain has already made that claim. And there is a widespread opposition against submitting such a vitally domestic question to a foreign tribunal. Washington's farewell address, warning his people against foreign entanglements, seems to be the mainspring of opposition to the new treaties.

"The Senate is a body which does public business by unanimous consent," oftentimes asserted Uncle Joe Cannon when he was in a contest with the so-called "upper branch" of the national legislature. And Senator Jones of Washington has demonstrated that if there should be objections which would do away with "unanimous consent" the Senate will find itself powerless or will be forced to amend its rules so as to make "one man power" impossible.

Jones only presses his advantage to a reasonable limit. He does not object to everything; he lets a lot slide through, which makes it easy at times. And yet he raises so many questions that he keeps Vice President Marshall busy examining the rules and precedents. The Vice President's examinations thus far seem to bear out the idea that the Senate could be absolutely tied up if a real, persistent and determined objector should go on the job.

We are not going to be allowed to forget that Senator Ashurst has a flow of words and is not afraid to use them. He does not say much in the Senate but when he does he bubbles over with oratory. Various organizations hungering for free speech have frequently secured the Arizona Senator for speech-making occasions.

Although it was not guessed at the time there was a future ambassador among the members of the Roosevelt country life commission. Walter H. Page, then a magazine editor, had given considerable thought to the subject of country life, and Roosevelt chose him as a member because he was a hard working, practical man who could write about what he saw. Years afterward President Wilson chose the same man for the most important diplomatic post abroad.

So far the Senate investigating committee has not been able to really determine what is a lobbyist. Several dictionaries of repute have given their opinions, but nothing has been determined so as to fix the definition of the term. Now, if a lobbyist cannot be defined how is he to be detected in his nefarious work or legitimate operations?

THE STONE BRIDGE INSPECTION.

structure a week ahead of the contract time.

The Rhode Island State Company provided a little extra for the commission and hence, instead of first inspecting the bridge and its working, the party was brought to the Newport beach. They then returned to Tiverton, where they had dinner at the Stone Bridge House and finally settled down to the inspection of the bridge, thus making a full day of it.

The party comprised the four commissioners already named, Mr. Clarence Greene of Providence not being present; ex-Senator George R. Lawton and Representative C. A. Hambly, Jr., of Tiverton, Representative F. B. Pew of Warwick, Representative Lewis M. Smith of Central Falls, Councilman A. J. Lemoreux of Coventry, H. U. Jones of Central Falls, Superintendents Bisbee and Donahue of the Bay State road, D. W. Howland and D. J. Dwyer of the Providence Tribune, W. R. Terry of the Fall River News and M. W. Hall of the Newport News.

HANDLING DAILY PAPERS.

Assistant Postmaster General Directs Their Prompt Distribution.

Instructions from First Assistant Postmaster General Daniel C. Roper have been sent to all postmasters directing them to handle daily newspapers sent to subscribers through the mails with the utmost dispatch possible after disposition of first-class matter.

"Many of these publications contain market quotations and other commercial data which are used frequently as the basis of the subscriber's daily business operations, and the value of this information is lost, if it is unduly delayed in transit," explained Mr. Roper to the postmasters.

He directed that upon the receipt of mail at a postoffice all sacks labelled "daily papers" should be distributed promptly and every effort made to effect their delivery on the first carrier trip after the receipt of the mail in the office, provided the delivery of first-class mail was not delayed.

AX-GRINDING

A Science With Some Dealers—Done at the Expense of the Public

There is nothing "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. Some dealers will even go so far as to tell you they have something better.

That dealer has an axe to grind.

You can't stop his grinding, but you can prevent him grinding it at your expense.

There is one sure, swift way to do it.

Go where you can get what you ask for.

You won't be obliged to do this very often, as fortunately the majority of druggists are honest and conscientious.

Newbro's Herpicide has been so long and favorably known as the original dandruff germ destroyer that no one should be deceived.

When you need a hair remedy, you don't want one which merely promises to kill the dandruff germ and prevent the hair from falling.

You want one that will do it.

Herpicide does it.

The hair becomes soft and lustrous. There is life, snap and beauty where formerly the hair was dead, dull and brittle.

Newbro's Herpicide is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications of this wonderful prophylactic may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send ten cents in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

PIMPLES RED, LARGE AND DISFIGURING

So Ashamed Did Not Go Out. In Night's Time Full of Them. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

287 Watkins St., Brooklyn, N. Y.—"When I was sixteen years of age, I noticed blackheads coming out on my face, then pimples, all kinds. I was so ashamed of myself that I did not go out of the house. In fact I did not want to show myself to my friends. Only the face was broken out and some parts of the lips. The pimples were red, large and disfiguring. Some came to a head and some came in big bumps, some were as large as a quarter and they were scattered all over my face in blotches. In a night's time my face was so full of them that I could not sleep on account of the itch.

"There was no cure. Medicines, salves, pills, nothing helped, until I saw about the Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper. I used them just as directions told me, and to my astonishment, I found a great change, and after a week or so, I was cured. My complexion is rosy and smooth instead of oily, rough and pimply as it used to be." (Signed) Albert Goldberg, Jan. 12, 1912.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have been the favorites for the treatment of eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations and other torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick. 25c. Sample free.

RECEPTION AT AQUIDNECK.

Follows the McLyman-Horgan Quiet Wedding at St. Joseph's Rectory.

Following the wedding of Miss Nina Bonaventure Horgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Horgan, to Mr. Benjamin Murrie McLyman, at St. Joseph's rectory Monday evening, a largely attended reception was held at the Hotel Aquidneck. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Edward A. Higney, pastor of St. Joseph's, was attended by only relatives and intimate friends, the bride's attendant being her sister, Miss Betty Horgan, and the groom's attendant Mr. Leighton T. Bowl of Edgewood, a classmate at Brown University. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with lace and a lace veil, and the bridesmaid wore pink embroidered chiffon over pink satin.

The entire lower floor of the hotel was given up to the reception, the rooms being decorated with cut flowers in vases. The reception took place in one of the parlors, Mr. and Mrs. McLyman standing beneath a large bell trimmed with white flowers and long white ribbons, palms and potted plants adding to the attractiveness of the scene. A wedding supper was served in the dining room and other rooms of the hotel.

A large number of guests were present to offer congratulations and best wishes, among those from out of the city being Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Spracklin, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Tatro, Dr. Edward F. McQuirk, and Mr. and Mrs. John Casey, Miss San Souci, Mr. J. Monroe and Misses May O'Gorman, Florence Bodell and Catherine Feeley of Providence; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Higgins, Miss Jennie Higgins and Mr. Hubert J. Higgins of Edgewood, the Misses Maguire of Fall River, Mr. Louis Bagnall of North Attleboro, Mrs. John B. Mahoney and Mr. Anthony Houten Mahoney of Medford, Mass., and Misses Marie, Helen and Pauline Duboque, daughters of Judge and Mrs. H. A. Duboque of Fall River, who were classmates of the bride at Elmhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. McLyman left later in the evening by automobile for Boston and will spend their honeymoon in the White Mountains.

NEW YORK, June 24, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 63¾, American Cotton Oil 36½, American Smelting and Refining 62½, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 95½, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 87½, Canadian Pacific 217½, Erie 23¾, Great Northern Ore Ctfs 31, Interborough Metropolitan preferred 56¾, Missouri Pacific 30, New York Central ex div. 98½, Northern Pacific 107½, Pennsylvania 110¾, Reading 157¾, Rock Island 15¾, Union Pacific 144, United States steel 62¾, United States Steel preferred 103½.

Noon—Sentiment was more cheerful, although trading grew quiet after the first hour's upward rush. The more confident attitude of traders was reflected in increased operations for the long account. The optimistic tenor of foreign advices seemed to be the main influence in lifting the market. London despatches indicated that nervousness at the approach of settlement had disappeared and that a large professional short interest was outstanding in the leading stocks. London bought 20,000 to 25,000 shares here, chiefly Canadian Pacific, the Harrimans, Amalgamated and Steel. Outside interest revived somewhat as prices climbed, but, after the list had advanced materially, buyers began to hesitate and there was renewal of near pressure in spots, which caused a reaction of half a point or more. Bonds were steady. Money on call, steady, at 2 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6 per cent. Exchanges, $277,651,432; balances, $21,853,144.

COMING TO NEWPORT.

House Committee on Naval Affairs to Inspect Stations This Summer.

Natural Advantages of Narragansett Bay for a Base to be Introduced to Visitors.

Congressman O'Shaunessy has received a letter from Congressman Lemuel P. Padgett, chairman of the House committee on naval affairs, in answer to the former's letter requesting the committee to visit Newport this summer. Mr. Padgett informs Mr. O'Shaunessy that the committee will be pleased to come to Newport and inspect the Naval War College, the Training Station and the Torpedo Station. No definite arrangements have yet been made as to the proposed visit to the navy yards, says Mr. Padgett, but he feels confident that the committee will do so some time during this summer.

Mr. O'Shaunessy intends to have the committee, when it visits Newport, inspect Narragansett bay for the purpose of becoming acquainted with its natural advantages as a naval base. This will be the first time in the history of the city that a naval affairs committee has inspected the naval establishments here. Congressman O'Shaunessy will endeavor to have the city officials assist in entertaining the committee, which will possibly spend about two days in Newport.

The members of the naval affairs committee are Lemuel P. Padgett, Tennessee, chairman; J. Frederick C. Talbot, Maryland; Richmond P. Hobson, Alabama; Albert Estopinal, Louisiana; Daniel P. Riordan, New York; Samuel J. Tribble, Georgia; Samuel A. Witherspoon, Mississippi; Walter L. Hensley, Missouri; Frank Buchanan, Illinois; E. R. Patterick, Ohio; Robert E. Lee, Pennsylvania; W. A. Williams, Illinois; John J. Mitchell, Massachusetts; Peter G. Gerry, Rhode Island; Thomas S. Butler Pennsylvania; Ernest W. Roberts, Massachusetts; William J. Browning, New Jersey; John R. Farr, Pennsylvania; Fred A. Britton, Illinois; Patrick H. Kelley, Michigan; William D. Stephens, California.

DINNER TICKETS LIMITED.

Mayor MacLeod to Extend Welcome to Ex-Senator Wetmore.

It is apparent that some are to be disappointed Thursday evening, having failed to secure in time tickets for the complimentary dinner to be given to ex-United States Senator George Peabody Wetmore. There is to be a limit on the number available Thursday, and accordingly those who wait until the last minute to decide are likely to find that they are late.

The reception, which will be for the public in general, will be from 6:30 to 7:30. Women as well as men will be welcome, as it was Mr. Wetmore's wish that there should be no restriction and all who desired should be given an opportunity to attend.

The dinner will be at 7:45, and here again there will be only such restriction as is necessary to make advance preparations for the service and supply. It is therefore not proposed to debar any one because of dress, but each will be allowed to choose for himself what he will wear.

President Titus of the Board of Trade will open the meeting, after which ex-Congressman Sheffield will preside. The speakers thus far decided upon are Lieutenant Governor Burchard for the state and Mayor MacLeod for the city. It is expected that there will also be others.

There will be no tickets for the reception, but for the dinner and speech-making tickets will be needed.

It has been arranged by the beach management to give a special program of Italian fireworks during the evening, so that there will be some attraction for the crowds after they have attended the reception.

THE STONE BRIDGE INSPECTION.

Repairs Examined by the Commissioners and Street Railway Officials.

Continuance of Wagon and Foot Traffic and Early Opening to Cars Pleasing Features.

At Tiverton the re-opening of the Stone Bridge to railway traffic is considered one of the most important events which has occurred in this part of the state for some time. People who are compelled to use the cheapest means of conveyance have not only been greatly inconvenienced, but have been obliged to stand exposure which threatened their health, and at times their lives, quitting four car to car. There have been occasions during storms when the exposure was terrible, and at such times people who traveled did so from necessity and not pleasure.

There has been much said, first and last, regarding the bridge and its condition. During the inspection Monday afternoon the commissioners, who comprise Henry C. Wilcox of Tiverton, Henry C. Anthony of Portsmouth, Irving P. Hudson of Coventry and Fred H. Jones of Central Falls, told their side of the story or had Engineer Babcock, who has been in charge of the repairs, tell many things.

In the first place, the reporters were given to understand that the bridge, which was constructed in 1907, was found to be in a positively serious condition, from faulty design and construction. It was stated that when the defects which have just been remedied caused the appointment of the present commission the members sought from the building commission the plans and specifications under which the bridge was built, and these failed to materialize.

The commission found that by the manner of construction of the arches the working of the draw leaves was causing a pressure which was making the piers slip and endangering the stability of the arches. The slipping of the piers was causing a pressure on the leaves when closed which was racking the mechanical structure. The commissioners said they did not forbid the cars to cross in May, 1911, but when they learned the condition of affairs they notified President Sullivan of the railway and he sent engineers to look over the bridge, and then the cars stopped crossing.

Engineer Babcock stated that there had been a slip which caused the leaves to sag and there had been removed from the ends of the leaves, first four inches, then two inches, making a total of six inches. The arches, he said, were not built to counteract the thrust of the working of the big leaves, and when they were broken down they were not as strong as some people supposed they were. He said that, now that the work has been completed there is not nearly as much vibration as when it was begun, even with the big cars running over it. He also said that there had been an unevenness in the operation of the big counterweights, which did not seat properly when the bridge was closed, and hence caused a twisting which was racking.

Much was said about the metal which had been put in the work, and its lack of protection, though it was admitted that lack of an appropriation prevented necessary painting. This caused the whole metal construction to deteriorate, and hence the present re-painting was an expensive undertaking. It is pointed out that provision must be made for regular painting if the bridge is to show reasonable life, and 20 years is suggested as the life of the bridge if reasonably cared for.

Particular attention was called to the railing on the south side of the bridge. This, except for the section in the centre, is built of thin and hollow metal, and the salt air has eaten it away to a mere suggestion in many places. In the centre section the bars are solid, but whether the specifications called for all solid is not known. Some of this flimsy material has been removed and in its place has been erected a re-inforced concrete wall, and the commission is considering extending this wall along the entire south side of the bridge.

To make the repairs necessary because of the damage being done, the three arches on each side were torn out; in their place the piers were built up, and on them were placed big steel girders to carry the roadway. There are eight of them, across the breadth of the bridge, and special strength is given under the car tracks in the centre. On these has been built a concrete platform, and upon this in turn has been laid a brick paving. Over each pier there has been built a concrete platform, and upon this in turn has been laid a brick paving. Over each pier there has been left an expansion joint, to allow for construction and expansion, while the girder construction is planned to take up the back thrust from the operation of the heavy draw leaves.

Where on the north side there was a wooden sidewalk on brackets, a concrete sidewalk is provided and every 20 feet there are scupper holes to allow the storm water which used to flood the bridge to run off. Naturally the placing of the girders left a large amount of iron work which is material to the strength of the structure difficult to paint, to say lure exposed to the salt air and in a nothing of the necessity of being frequently painted.

To meet the assured deterioration of the bridge from this cause the plan has been adopted which is in use on bridges over railways where the smelter gas from locomotives has been most destructive. An air compressor is engaged in spraying all this work with a thick coating of Portland cement, wire netting being used as a re-inforcement of the cement. This work is now in progress, as is that of building the wall on the south side of the bridge, but otherwise the job is done, except for the roadway on either end of the new work. This is badly worn and there is talk of brick-paving the entire bridge if the money hangs out.

Included in the repairs there has been another feature, a lock by which two five-inch bars of steel are projected from one leaf into the other, so that when they are lowered they are rigidly locked together.

The commission is highly gratified over two features of the work—that of keeping the bridge open to wagon and foot traffic while the repairs were in progress, and that of finding it possible to permit the cars to use the

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

Jury Awards the Son $490, Claimed from His Father's Estate.

Story of Existence and Disappearance of Wills Developed in the Pierce-Pierce Case.

The Pierce-Pierce case proceeded before Judge Stearns in the superior court Monday afternoon, plaintiff completing his testimony. After an argument sub rosa, at the judge's bench, the court ruled out a question about the father's will.

Witness said he did not owe his father. Shown a paper, he said: "That was in 1893. I had forgotten about it." It was a note, signed by him. It was not admitted as evidence. He did not petition for the appointment of this administrator; his sister did. When he left the farm it was generally on business, and he does not recall leaving any work undone at any time he went.

Charles H. Wilkey of Tiverton was the second witness. For 30 years he has lived across the street from this place. Before plaintiff came back to manage it the old man was feeble and couldn't do much and the place was run down. He had help but couldn't keep them. Plaintiff did chores and general work right along until his father died. Witness sold fertilizer to plaintiff; a ton in 1910. Charged it to him. A. S. Peirce took the crop—a good one. Witness talked with the daughter Sarah as to pay for the fertilizer and she paid for that used on the corn; plaintiff paid for the rest. In succeeding years sold plaintiff fertilizer. Witness thought plaintiff's charge for wages reasonable—this was objected to and the court ruled it out.

Benjamin C. Sunbury, who lives nearly opposite the place in question, testified. Plaintiff came there in April, 1909, and has been there since. Walls, fences, gates, etc., needed to be repaired and plaintiff did it. Witness has hired help and knows what others say they pay. Ten dollars a week is a fair charge, he thinks, for what Mr. Pierce did. He paid $2 a day and board.

Plaintiff rested.

Mr. Harvey outlined the defense, which was that the agreement was that plaintiff was to have his board and what he could raise, which was carried out fully. He made no improvements and his father made statements that he owed him nothing. The corn which he claimed was planted by his father.

Sarah Pierce took the stand. Now she lives in South Somerset. Her father lived to be 85. Her mother died in 1901 and witness kept house for her father after that. When Edward returned he was not to be paid; they could not afford to pay. He was to do what he could for himself and for them. They had a man before that, who was paid $2 a week. She couldn't attend to the poultry; had to look out for the house and her father and do the latter's writing. They raised a little produce on the farm and received a little wharfage etc. She had to help a little sometimes, as the income from the farm was scant to pay their expenses. She sold the eggs and poultry.

She and Edward remained in the house after her father died. She took an envelope from the desk, and took from it a document (her father's will). She read it (perhaps not all) and thinks she gave it to Edward to read. She put it back, locked the desk and put the key in the cupboard. The next afternoon she went to the desk and the envelope was empty. She knew of no one going to the desk in the meantime. She called her brother's attention to the loss of the document. "What was that document?"—Objected to.

The court said he wished to know what Mr. Harvey's position and claim was. The time had come to know. Was it claimed that there was a will leaving all to the sister and Edward took the will and trumped up this claim? As things stood, it was highly improper to put in evidence as it was tending. To the court's pointed questions Mr. Harvey said he did claim that there was a will which left the estate to the daughter. Mr. Burdick did not see that the question of a will has any bearing on the case. The court finally decided to let witness tell about the paper.

Witness, after several questions, said it was a will. It was signed by witnesses and she presumed by her father. Then she said it was signed by her father. It left the property to her and did not mention Edward. There were two documents—two wills—made at different times. Witness named those whose names were on the documents as witnesses. She had little time to read them before they disappeared and could not tell exactly what was in them.

In cross-examination, witness admitted some work which plaintiff did about the place. Her father did the husking.

After a short recess, Miss Pierce finished her evidence. She did not recall any help staying as much as one season. She could not tell whether Edward planted the corn in 1910; it was her father's seed. She then said she did not remember that Edward had corn the first year. She did not remember telling Mr. Wilkey at first that Edward must pay for the fertilizer, and later saying that her father had taken the corn and she would pay for the fertilizer.

She did not have time to look over the document, fully. She thinks her father's name must have been there. She supposes the first document was made while Edward was in Worcester and her sister was living. Both were made while Edward was in Worcester. The names of witnesses on them were Fernando Wilcox, Ralph Wilcox and Horace Fish. She said her brother signed the application for administration with her. She had a grain business and a notion store on the place. Turning to her book, she found that she paid October 4, 1910, for fertilizer $10; she found none for 1911.

Shown the alleged agreement to give the shore lot to Edward, witness said she never saw it before her father died. She should say the alleged signature is not her father's writing. It is in pencil; he signed any papers of importance in ink. She identified a signature of her father—for comparison. She thought there is another signature in court, on a note for $1,000 to her, for her services (The court compared the writing). Mr. Burdick asked if witness had her father's writing in pencil. The note was found and put in evidence.

William H. Pierce of Fall River, formerly of New York, testified that deceased was his uncle, on whom he called often. The lawn might have been mowed oftener after Edward came. Witness called, sharply, for 15 minutes or an hour. On a question asked, the court ruled that in a case for services the statements of deceased are not admissible. Witness was not allowed to say whether or not deceased showed him a document, or an alleged will. Witness was asked if Ed-

MRS. PECK SHOT IN THE CHEST.

Her Condition Considered Hopeless and Ante-Mortem Statement Taken.

Wounded in Altercation With W. J. Bolling, But Who Held the Revolver Uncertain.

There was a shooting affair on Marsh street, between the end of Third street and the Marsh elevator, about 8:45 Monday evening. As a result Mr. Claudiana C. Peck is at the hospital with a 38-calibre bullet wound in the right chest and William J. Bolling, a cook at the Training Station, is charged with the shooting. Bolling was rooming at Mrs. Peck's, but there was some falling out and she told him to leave, which he did. The Peck domicile is at 2 Third street and Bolling found what he supposed was a haven of rest at the Piper House at 10 Third street.

However the Nemesis which put him out of the Peck place followed him to the Piper; there was some argument there and Bolling went out and talked with Mrs. Peck. The latter returned to her home and went up stairs, and returned and saw Bolling. Then the shooting took place. The supposition is that Mrs. Peck took the revolver from her house when she went there, and had it when she met Bolling, just before the shooting. Who had the revolver when it was fired is a question.

The patrol with a number of officers hurried to the scene and the woman was found in such condition that she was placed in the wagon and hurried to the hospital. There Dr. Sherman found that the bullet had entered her right chest and passed over the diver. Her condition was considered practically hopeless and Coroner Shepley was called and took her ante-mortem statement.

In the meantime the police and the naval patrol were looking for Bolling, who was not to be found. He went direct to the Training Station, handed in the revolver and gave himself up, giving his account of the trouble. This morning a warrant was sworn out against him, charging him with assault with a dangerous weapon.

The revolver is of 38 calibre and one cartridge had been fired. It is stated that it is a navy revolver, possibly taken from the Station or some ship, with the number filed off.

Dr. Sherman, who has charge of the case of Mrs. Peck, reported this afternoon that she is sinking and it seemed a question if she would more than live through the day. She is too weak for an operation. The bullet took a downward course and evidently penetrated the abdomen, which would go to confirm the belief that Bolling was wrenching the revolver from her when it was discharged.

The police have a warrant charging Bolling with assault with a dangerous weapon. It has not yet been served, he being kept in confinement at the Training Station. If the woman dies, as now seems certain, the warrant will be changed to one charging manslaughter.

The police report this morning included a man charged with sleeping out. This is the season for sleeping out with safety, but the doctors had nothing to say about this case; in fact, it was really for medical attendance rather than for sleeping out that the man was given six months at the state institutions. A man for drunkenness was fined $2, but that did not enable him to find the $4.60 necessary to leave the station unaccompanied, so he went to jail. Two revellers from Clarke street pleaded guilty, but put up a strenuous objection to paying the $5 and costs which the court imposed. Still, though not still verbally, they paid.

Inspector Tobin Monday picked up in the park one Albert Pugliese for the Fall River police and turned him over to Inspector Kileen, who came here for him and whom the prisoner accompanied without waiting for extradition papers. He is charged with the larceny of two gold watches, one of which was recovered here.

The police recovered four bicycles today—rather a bicycle day. One was reported stolen from a cellar Monday. As a matter of fact, it was stolen Saturday. Two others were taken from the beach Sunday, evidently by men from the Training Station, and one was stolen from a boy ten days ago.

CLASS OF 1913 BANQUET.

Rogers High School Members Hold Last Meeting of Year With Miss Jenckes.

The class of 1913, Rogers High School, had its last meeting for this school year Monday evening, the occasion being the class banquet, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Jenckes on Washington street, Miss Jenckes being the hostess. It was an ideal place, the tables being set on the broad verandah overlooking the bay, where the lights on the ships made the view a pretty one. Many Japanese lanterns were hung around the lawn, and over the tables. The tables were decorated with candelabra and favors, and while supper was being served an orchestra played.

After supper, President Albert Knox called upon Richmond Brooks Barrett, who read the class poem; Miss Emily C. Campbell, read the class history, Miss Susan H. Sherman the prophecies on the different members of the class, written by her, and Miss Anna M. Congdon the prophecy on the prophetess.

Miss Lucy P. Brownell and Miss Margaret F. O'Hanley, of the Rogers faculty, were present, and President Knox called on each of them to speak. He read short notes from Head Master Frank E. Thompson and Miss Kate L. Clarke, expressing their regrets at not being able to be present, and also sending their best wishes to the class, as did also Miss Luella M. Allen. Of the members of the class, those who were called upon to speak were Miss Dorothy A. Arnold and Miss Prunella Wood, W. Norman Sayer and Henry S. Wheeler. Dancing followed until midnight.

The class poem, written by Mr. Barrett, was regarded as an excellent piece of work. The poem, lists of class officers and members, the history and the prophecies, were printed in a neat booklet, tied with brown and gold cord, the class colors, and with the class seal on the outside, in the class colors. The class motto, "Vinoli qui se vincit," was inscribed inside.

There was a good deal of talk during the evening of having class reunions each year at Commencement time, and the opinion was favorable. None of the other classes at Rogers have had reunions, but since the class of 1913 has been in the school it has created several new orders of things, and has been looked upon as one of the banner classes.

A Shanghai paper says: "There is a beautiful custom in Japan, whereby the wife during the hot weather sits up all night fanning her husband."

WAR COLLEGE POSSIBILITIES.

Secretary Daniels to Devise Plan for Larger Usefulness to Officers.

Better Training in Military Character the Object of General and Special Courses.

Secretary Daniels, who has returned to Washington from a tour of inspection of New England navy yards and naval stations expresses himself as deeply impressed with the possibilities of the Naval War College here. As a result of his conference with naval officers here, he hopes to devise a plan whereby the college will be useful to a larger number of officers. He has not yet determined a policy, but hopes to arrange so that every naval officer will receive instruction here. One recommendation put forward at the conference was that every officer pursue the long course at the Naval College as a qualification to become a commander of a battleship.

Captain W. L. Rodgers, president of the Naval War College, explaining the special conference of officers from the fleet, says:

From solutions of individual situations the student begins to formulate principles for his own guidance. The War College does not instruct the student in principles, but teaches him to arrive at such from the individual situation which he solves. The problem solving is used to teach a logical method of reasoning on military situations and a proper method of draw-
